Frank Porter Graham Child Development Institute - FPG is a multidisciplinary institute at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The institute's mission is to cultivate and share the knowledge necessary to enhance child development and family well being. Through a variety of grants and contracts, we conduct research and provide outreach services. Most of the institute's work addresses young children ages birth to 8 years. We have a special focus on children who experience biological or environmental factors that challenge early development and learning. "FPG.Advancing Knowledge.Enhancing Lives." is the philosophy that guides our daily work.

Parents as Teachers – Faith Community Network – is a parent education and family support program based on the philosophy that parents are their child’s first and most influential teachers. It strengthens the home-school-community partnership through personal visits, parent group meetings, developmental screenings and a resource network. Involvement in this program helps parents acquire the knowledge and skills they need to make a positive impact during the early years that research indicates have the greatest rate of growth, prenatal to kindergarten entry. Participation in Parents as Teachers encourages parent/child relationships that establish a firm foundation for overall health and future academic success.
